15th January 2023 Second Sunday in Ordinary Time (page 125 of Parish Mass Book) YEAR A

This year is going to be quite challenging with regard to the decisions we need to make in maintaining the fabric of our building in the parish. The hall and presbytery need a new boiler, the ceiling in the church needs replacing, the heating is coming to the end of its life, energy costs are rising and the imperative to improve the efficiency and 'green credentials' across Catholic Christendom is an immediate concern of our Holy Father.

The PPC are committed to seeking advice on all these issues before considering our priorities and plotting the course to resolve our maintenance problems in a cost effective and timely manner.

It is likely that we will need to embark on a fundraising program to assist in offsetting the cost of the work to be done, the scale of this cannot yet be publicised as we are not sure of the options that are open to us.

Please make this a subject for your prayers throughout the coming year.

God bless.

Fr. Keill.

COULD YOU BE A RAINBOW LEADER?

The upcoming Easter break brings the departure of Sarah as leader of the 5th Addiscombe Rainbows. As yet, no volunteers have stepped up to take over this very rewarding role, which would mean the unit (our last remaining Rainbow unit) would be forced to shut down.

Please don't let this happen to our Rainbows! If you think you could be the leader the unit need, please contact Sarah for more information about what is involved, by either:

FAIR-TRADE GOODS - WHY??

Please see the third page of this newsletter (online only via <http://www.addiscombecatholicchurch.com/>)

A MESSAGE FROM CAFOD

The church relies on people getting involved. Our church, our world needs you. Could your New Year's resolution be getting more involved in the life of our church? What aspects of church brings you life or joy? Could you give a bit of time to help those parts flourish? CAFOD, the Catholic Agency for Overseas Development, are looking for people to give some time and join them in their mission. Could you help in our parish, bringing people together to help build a better world or by visiting local schools? Or raise a voice and campaign for justice or perhaps speak for CAFOD throughout the diocese? Could you support local volunteers or share your office skills to help CAFOD keep costs low?

We believe that everybody had unique gifts and talents and we want to support you to use these gifts to serve the parish community and our brothers and sisters across the world.

Training and support are provided. See cafod.org.uk/Volunteer for more information or get in touch with Celeste and Sarah: southwark@cafod.org.uk and let's transform the world in 2023 together!

FAIR-TRADE GOODS – WHY??

“Big business doesn’t care much about the little people, it cares about its profits. It tries to squeeze as low a price as it can get for its raw materials and as high a price as it can get from its consumers.”

(Ruth Coffey, “Why fair-trade matters”, 2018)

Let’s start with a few common questions ...

1. Why should anyone buy an Easter egg for £4.50 when a similar-sized one can be had for under £2?
2. Why would anyone pay £7 for a t-shirt when you can get 3 for £5?
3. Why pay twice the price for fair-trade ground coffee than the lower price in the local store?

Similar questions include

“Why are there so many collapsed or burning sweat-shop factories in south-east Asia?”

“Why do some cocoa farmers achieve yields a third of those they had only a few years ago?”

“Why do so many children in developing countries suffer from water-borne diseases?”

These questions are connected through the fair-trade movement, which aims to treat third world suppliers better by offering them better terms to provide their products. “Better terms” include not just a higher price (the fair-trade premium) but also a guarantee relating to future transactions. For fair traders, the bottom line is not the only criterion ... but can, for example, include protecting the environment and enhancing local living standards. Fair-trade goods cost more because they come through a trade route which adds those things to the grower’s side of the deal and helps crop sustainability. It reflects one aspects of Christianity; Christianity has been summarised as “suffering, sacrifice and salvation”. This fair-trade stuff is the “sacrifice” bit, whereby we in the relatively rich west can care for our neighbours in developing nations.

“Neighbours” include not only those in the next continent but also those in the next century ... which is why fair trade adds a little to the income of communities in developing countries so that they can have a clean water supply, a clinic within reasonable reach, a school – things we take for granted (and, perhaps, therefore don’t value as we should). These things cost money; fair-trade is a way of providing that without it looking like “charity”.

All those things tell us that it’s worth looking for the fair-trade logo in your favourite supermarket, whether it’s for bananas, coffee or whatever – you’ll be helping someone you’ll never meet and who won’t know to whom they could say “thank you!”. At the same time, you get a quality product, evidence the comment from Daniel, 7, on his Real Easter Egg; “it’s the best chocolate I’ve ever tasted!”

It’s also worth looking out for fair-trade goods on sale through our own Justice, Peace & Integrity of Creation Group, as we try to follow the Holy Father’s lead in “Laudato Si’ ”. We will be offering Easter eggs and similar fair-trade goods later this spring; please support us supporting them – watch this space!
